

City Hall Plans Completed and Ready for Bids

Plans and specifications for reconstruction of City Hall May Now Be Obtained From the Architect—Plans Must Be Filed With City Clerk—Retain Old Walls Only. Plans and specifications for reconstruction of the city hall are now completed by the committee of architects, consisting of Messrs. Myron S. Teller, Gerard W. Betz and George E. Lowe, and may be obtained from the office of the architects in the advance building on Wall street. Sealed bids must be filed with the city clerk not later than 1 p.m. on November 29, at which time the common council will meet and open the bids.

No portion of the old city hall building is to be used in the construction of a new city hall except the four walls which were not damaged by the fire. There has been no damage suffered these walls by exposure to the weather since the fire and according to the statement of the architects in charge of the reconstruction it would be a needless waste of money to erect a temporary roof over the ruins.

New Fireproof Interior. Myron S. Teller, Gerard W. Betz and George E. Lowe, members of the City Hall Architect Commission, following the fire were appointed a commission to draft plans for rebuilding of the city hall. The plans prepared no portion of the building except the four walls are to remain a portion of the new building. In order to have a fireproof building, every floor, member, window sash and in fact every piece of wood in the old building will be removed and replaced with fireproof material.

Rubbish to be Removed. It was the unanimous advice of the architects that no temporary roof was needed for protection of the present policy was followed. Then it became known that the building would have to be replaced and that no portion of the old floors would be utilized, it was deemed unnecessary to take any measures to protect the mass of ruins which is to be torn out and carried away. In the case some three feet of the tops of the walls were damaged by the intense heat and according to the architects the walls will have to be torn down and rebuilt for that distance where the heat has affected the walls.

The exposure of the walls to sun has in no way weakened them, according to the architects, and the only damage to the walls was done by the fire. A great amount of water was poured on the ruins at the time of the fire but this did not damage the walls of the building.

Interior Work All New. Under the plans as now completed every wooden beam, timber or frame in the old structure will be removed and the only portion of the old building to be used at all will be the walls.

Damage might result to the walls if they were allowed to stand unprotected during the freezing weather of winter, but it is anticipated that long before damaging weather comes the present ruins will be removed and the walls will be roofed over.

Plans and Insurance Adjustment. Some time was required by the architects in working out a plan for remodeling the building which would most efficiently use the space in the building. The matter of insurance which ultimately resulted in the city receiving some $10,000 additional insurance also took some time but the plans have advanced sufficiently far to assure the work being carried on at an early date so that the building will be roofed over and by using the present heating plant for temporary heat, work may be carried on during the winter months.

CANADIAN LIQUORS MADE IN NEW YORK. Utica, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP).—The charge that this city and Central New York are a source of alcohol from which Canadian liquors are manufactured is made by two government officials.

Lowell R. Smith of Watertown, chief of the northern federal prohibition enforcement district, states that his department learned long since that all contraband spirits seized by his men were not being carried south from northern territory.

United States Commissioner D. M. Haselton, Gouverneur, backs up the agent with the revelation that 550 gallons of alleged alcohol bound from Central New York northward have been seized to his knowledge in the past few months.

The commissioner says the seizure of northbound spirits have been made with the arrests of four Uticans and three Syracuse men.

GREEN LANTERNS MARK NO PARKING ZONE. Green lanterns have been erected by the police department on Wall street from Main to the Ulster County Savings Bank building to designate at night the no parking zone. An effort is to be made by the police to keep this zone clear and every warning is being afforded the public. The zone is marked plainly with pavement no parking signs.

Royal Wedding Elaborate Affair

Pomp and Ceremony at Wedding of Princess Anne of France and Prince Amedeo of Savoy.

Naples, Italy, Nov. 5 (AP).—The wedding of Princess Anne of France to Prince Amedeo of Savoy, duke of Apulia, was celebrated today with all that pomp and ceremony that is attendant upon royal nuptials.

This tall and stately daughter of the duke of Guise, pretender to the throne of France, and the gay and debonair son of the duke of Aosta, cousin of the king of Italy, were married first in a civil ceremony at the Royal Palace and then in a religious ceremony in the historic church of San Francesco di Paolo.

The kings of two great Latin countries, Victor Emmanuel of Italy and Alfonso of Spain, were present. Princes and princesses of the houses of Savoy, Bourbon and Orleans, and others attended the function which attracted more royalty than any other since the war, except the weddings of Princess Mary and the Duke of York in Great Britain.

Kings in Procession. Under a bright blue sky, a radiant sun and with the bay of Naples glistening and Old Vesuvius, a somnolent onlooker, smoking gloomily in the background, the cavalcade of royal horse carriages clattering down the winding streets from Capodimonte, the residence of the bridegroom's parents, they were followed by King Victor Emmanuel and princesses in gala coaches through the center of the city to the Royal Palace, where the civil ceremony took place. King Alfonso and other guests joined the cortege here.

The people of Naples lined the route and cheered the young couple as they passed. In the meantime from another part of the city, Cardinal Ascalesi set forth from the Arch Episcopal Palace, escorted by a platoon of carabinieri on horseback.

The Religious Ceremony. At the porch of the church of San Francesco di Paolo the cardinal and his suite were greeted by civil and military authorities and then went to the sacristy to do their robes for the religious ceremony. When the bride couple and the kings of Italy and Spain arrived at the church portal at the conclusion of the brief civil ceremony at the palace, Canon Antonica waited to sprinkle them with holy water. He then conducted them up the center aisle to the main altar beside which the tribune of honor had been erected for them.

Silence pervaded the church as the tall young bride, clad in priceless white lace from Brussels and carrying a bouquet of orange blossoms, entered on the arm of her taller father.

Behind them came the bridegroom in the full uniform of a lieutenant colonel of the royal artillery, wearing his many decorations. He gave his arm to his mother, the Duchess of Aosta. After imparting the nuptial benediction Mgr. Beccaccia, Italian court chaplain, delivered a brief homily to the newlyweds, rejoicing at the union of the scions of two such illustrious houses, the graceful princess from the north and the soldier prince from the south. On leaving the church, the couple went with the members of royalty and the other distinguished guests to the palace, where a wedding breakfast of one hundred and twenty covers was served.

TUPPER LAKE HUNTER KILLS BIG BOBCAT

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP).—The trophy of an exciting encounter with a big bobcat has been brought into Saranac Lake by Joseph H. Halie of Tupper Lake whose quick action probably saved him from serious injury.

Halie was hunting deer in the vicinity of Blue Mountain Lake when he heard a noise in the underbrush behind him. Whirling in the hope of seeing a deer, he caught sight, instead, of a bobcat which had apparently been sneaking up from the rear. The animal was not more than 20 feet away and upon being seen by the hunter started towards him. Halie had no time to swing his rifle into position. Fortunately, he was carrying a pistol and as the snarling beast approached him he fired hastily with the smaller weapon. The shot tore away the animal's lower jaw and lodged in a vital spot in its head, halting its rush.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR COMING WEEK

Following is the weather outlook for the week beginning Monday: North and middle Atlantic states: Mostly fair with temperature below normal first half and considerable cloudiness, somewhat higher temperature and a period of precipitation mostly rain latter half.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health: Mr. and Mrs. James Nekos, 129 Emerson street, a son, John James, at Kingston City Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Walter, 547 Abel street, a daughter, Dorothy Evelyn, at Kingston City Hospital.

B'way Crossing Hearing Friday At Newburgh

Public Service Commission Holds Hearing on State's Tentative Elimination Program for 1928—Estimated Cost $250,000 and $600,000—Kingston Officials Ask Further Information for Common Council.

A hearing was held at the city hall, Newburgh, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon concerning a program of railroad grade crossing eliminations suggested for consideration in the year 1928. There were approximately 15 crossings on the calendar for consideration, and among the number, the Broadway crossing of the West Shore Railroad in this city.

This crossing was on the program of the Superintendent of Public Works and was also on the railroad company's schedule. The estimated cost of elimination was given in two amounts, $250,000 and $600,000. The $250,000 item was the Superintendent of Public Works' estimate of the construction work alone. The representative of the railroad stated that this, in their judgment, would not be anywhere near adequate to perform the work and take care of the property damage, and the railroad estimated that the cost would be not less than $600,000.

No objection was raised to the elimination by the railroad people, and it was stated in behalf of the city that it was the desire to obtain all of the information possible with the view of presenting it to the common council at the next regular meeting, and the Public Service Commission would be advised of the action of the council. No testimony was taken as to the plan for the elimination or the necessity of the elimination. These questions are reserved until the matter is put on the calendar and a hearing called for the specific crossing in question. At the hearing all parties will have an opportunity to be heard. The city was represented by Mayor Dempsey, Alderman-at-Large Everett and the corporation counsel.

"TRIP AROUND WORLD" WAS GREAT SUCCESS

"The Trip Around the World," which was held at Trinity Lutheran Church, ended very successfully Friday night. The booths disposed of most of their articles. The committee wishes to thank all those who in any way helped to make this affair so successful.

Milkmen Electrocuted. Huntsville, Tex., Nov. 5 (AP).—Avery V. Milliken, convicted of slaying Mrs. Virginia Pettit, prominent San Antonio matron in May, 1926, was electrocuted at the state prison here today.

Girl Student Dies In Crash

Helon Smith Plunged Underneath Overturned Car, Which Flung Over Embankment—Three Other Occupants Escape Serious Injury.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP).—Miss Helen Smith, 19, of Fairfield, Conn., a student in Syracuse University, was fatally injured near the city last night when an automobile in which she was riding with three others, plunged over a 25-foot embankment at Varna on the Ithaca-Cortland highway.

Miss Smith was pinned underneath the overturned car, a sedan, and died while she was being removed to the Ithaca Memorial Hospital. The other occupants of the car, who were Paul Goodrich, also of Fairfield, Conn., a freshman at Cornell; Steele Powers of Ville d'Avray, France, also a Cornell freshman, and Miss Gwendolyn Leers, of Brooklyn, a Syracuse University student, escaped serious injury.

The party was returning from Syracuse where Goodrich and Powers had gone to bring the young women to Ithaca for a week-end fraternity house party. The accident occurred near an overhead bridge at the top of a steep hill. Goodrich, who was driving, reported that the highway was icy and that after driving over the bridge he was unable to make a sharp curve in the road. The car crashed through a guard rail and down the embankment. All of the occupants jumped, but Miss Smith landed underneath the overturned car.

KOENNECKE MAKES FORCED LANDING IN INDIA

Seriff, Nov. 5 (AP).—Lieutenant Otto Koennecke, who is on his way to the United States via the Orient, in a Caspar biplane, made a forced landing at Allahabad, India, the German consul at Calcutta informed the Foreign Office today. The plane, the Germania, was damaged on landing. (Lieutenant Koennecke was last reported in Karachi, India, where he landed from Bender Abbas, Persia, October 31.)

FIRE ZONE MARKED FOR FAIR ST. ENGINE HOUSE

A fire zone has been marked out with white paint on the pavement in front of the Wiltwyck engine house on Fair street. The new hook and ladder truck which recently was installed in the Fair street engine house required considerable room in getting in and out of the engine house and the fire zone will keep the street clear so that the truck may be easily operated.

Secures Position. Miss Sadie Lifshin, an honor graduate of Spencer's Business School, has secured a position as stenographer, typist and clerk with Attorney Harry E. Schirick.

Death and Destruction Continue in New England

Nearly Lost Life In Raging Torrent

A large tree, sweeping along on a raging mountain current, swollen by the heavy rains, struck a horse and rig in which Leonard Scholl was riding early Friday morning near Phoenixia, hurling horse, rig and man into the whirling current from which the man saved himself from drowning by grasping a limb of the tree that had swept him into the water and clinging to it.

Mr. Scholl is employed as foreman at the Longyear bakery at Phoenixia and resides on a farm known as "The Island," a short distance from Phoenixia. He drives back and forth to his work. He was on his way home at the time and was crossing a bridge over the stream when swept into the water. The current was so strong horse and wagon was turned over as they were swept along.

As the tree brushed against a huge rock jutting up out of the water, Mr. Scholl scrambled onto the rock, and clung there until rescued. The horse and wagon returning home driven by Mrs. Scholl, to telephone to Mr. Longyear that her husband was missing. He jumped into his auto and began a search, locating the missing man standing waist deep on the rock. Mr. Longyear rescued him by hurling out a long rope with the assistance of which Mr. Scholl was able to make the shore safely.

WHITE IS COMPLETING MONSTER SPEEDSTER

Philadelphia, Nov. 5 (AP).—A monster speedster powered by three 12-cylinder aviation engines is being completed by J. M. White, wire manufacturer, in an effort to hang up a new automobile speed record. Mr. White announced today.

V-type engines develop 500 horse power each, so that the machine will develop 500 horse power more than Major H. O. D. Segraves' Mystery, which made the present record of 293.79 miles per hour last March. The machine's three motors are arranged one in front and two in the rear, and all three are geared directly to the rear axle. It is without clutch or gear shift.

Mr. White expects his machine will make at least 210 miles an hour. The machine will be shipped to Ormond-Beach Daytona Beach where the speed test will be made this winter, he said.

Some Promises, Like Pie Crust, Are Made Only to be Broken

Edgar J. Dempsey will devote his entire time to the duties of the office of Mayor, as his record shows he has in the past, while his opponent has never publicly stated he will give up his law practice and devote all his time to the job, if elected. Mr. Schirick's record shows what he has done and left undone in the past.

If you want a Mayor who has been tried and found most efficient and always on the job, Mayor Dempsey should be elected.

If you want a business man to manage your city affairs, one who is qualified to act in any emergency, Mayor Dempsey should be elected.

If you want a business administration and a man who will devote all his time to the office, Mayor Dempsey should be elected.

If you want a man who will look after your interests and keep expenditures down, which means lower taxes, Mayor Dempsey should be elected.

If you want a Mayor who has promised all things to all men but whose past record shows that a large part of the time he was not performing the duties of his office, you should vote for Judge Schirick.

"Handsome is as Handsome does."

"Promises, like pie crust, are made to be broken."

Thirty Lives Are Known to Have Been Lost—Unconfirmed Reports From Isolated Places Indicate Toll Might Mount Above 200—Mystery's Darkest Center Hovers Over Montpelier, Vt.—Flood Waters Pour Over Into New York.

(By the Associated Press.)

Raging rivers continued to spread death and destruction through the valleys of northern and western New England today, paralyzing communication and shrouding the extent of the disaster in uncertainty.

While more than thirty lives were known to have been lost unconfirmed, indefinite reports from the isolated are indicated that the death toll might mount above 200.

The mystery's darkest center hovered over Montpelier, Vt., from which trickled vague reports of from 137 to 212 deaths. The bursting of a reservoir was said to have sent more than ten feet of water swirling through the city.

A wireless message from the stricken area to the Associated Press, picked up at Binghamton, N. Y., reported the loss of ten lives and among them was said to be Lieutenant Governor Jackson. A similar message, picked up at Hudson, Mass., however, mentioned persistent but unverified reports of high loss of life at Montpelier, but made no mention of any loss of life at Barre.

The meagre reports pictured in dim outline thousands of men, women and children homeless and exposed to the rigors of steadily dropping temperatures, with food supply cut off, and without means of appealing for help.

The damage to property, according to early estimates, mounted into staggering sums, while in addition thousands were temporarily deprived of livelihood with the paralysis of industry.

While the Green Mountain region of Vermont and the Berkshire region of Massachusetts were the most seriously affected, the flood waters poured over into New York, the province of Quebec and the other New England States, tearing down buildings and clipping bridges from their foundations.

The American Red Cross, already providing 60,000 meals a day to the Mississippi flood sufferers, was mobilizing relief work for the new victims in the east. Six workers were rushed to the flood areas and all local chapters were authorized to expend their funds to meet any emergency.

Summary of Conditions.

Vermont—Collapse of reservoir at Montpelier reported to have caused loss of life estimated at from 137 to 212. Unconfirmed reports said that Lieutenant Governor Jackson had perished at Barre, Windsor placed in charge of troops with a thousand persons homeless and dead lines established to prevent looting. Burlington isolated by rising waters, storm took the form of a gale, a Rutland restored to communication after being isolated 24 hours.

Massachusetts—Western area suffered severely. Village of Becket almost swept away when mountain reservoir burst. Montreal-Boston train service suspended. Boston threatened with milk famine.

New Hampshire—Northern towns cut off. North Walpole reported under 17 feet of water. One hundred washouts and landslides were reported in the White Mountains.

Connecticut—Rivers at record heights and property damage placed at $100,000.

Rhode Island—Many mill dams burst and 5,000 persons out of work.

Maine—Communications were particularly disrupted and railroad service was crippled by gale and washouts.

New York State—Hudson Valley menaced. River at Albany ten feet above normal.

Quebec—Property damage of several millions of dollars reported from eastern townships, where crops were destroyed and timber swept away. Rail service paralyzed.

Impossible to Verify Figures. Boston, Nov. 5 (AP).—New heights were reached today in the ever mounting toll of life and property. In the worst storm and flood disaster that New England has experienced within memory, and although thirty persons were reported to be dead and material damage ran into staggering sums it was feared that when full news of the catastrophe, which overtook Montpelier, Vt., became known the list of victims might be greatly increased.

Unconfirmed reports from White River Junction, Vt., had placed the dead in Montpelier at between 137 and 212, but in the complete failure of telephone and telegraph communication, it was impossible to verify these figures.

Interest centered on Vermont's Capital whose only contact with the outside world came from an Associated Press correspondent operating a radio station which depended on power from door bell batteries.

Overshadowing everything else in the storm-stricken area was the message of L. A. Kelly, which told of ten dead in the neighboring city of Barre, one of whom was reported to be the Lieutenant Governor of the state, S. H. Jackson.

No Check on Loss of Life. In Montpelier there was no check on loss of life. Light and power were cut out, as they were in practically every other place in the central part of the state and many in New

Great Loss To Railroads. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' loss had been sustained by railroads in the myriad bridge losses, freight car submergence, track washouts, terminal disorders, landslides and steep drops of local passenger trains and fast expresses.

Added to the toll of storm losses were the countless hundreds of persons who saw their means of livelihood swept away by turbulent floods. From every section of New England came reports of factories, mills, lumber yards, power plants and other enterprises which had been caught up by the swirling streams. Rhode Island alone reported 5,000 thrown out of employment in that state by swollen mill rivers.

Scenes Like Mississippi Flood. Airplane pictures of the devastated regions showed scenes like those of the Mississippi river inundation.

Chrysanthemums At Burgevin's

Both Flower Shop and Greenhouse of Kingston Florists are filled with many varieties of surprising beauty.

Today when practically everyone is more or less interested in China and Japan, many people are gratified to find that in one thing Americans have outdistanced both countries, in the growing, culture and development of one of their very special favors, the chrysanthemum. American gardens of yesterday boasted only the common-garden variety of these beautiful flowers until it was found that they generously repaid intensive culture by greatly improved blooms, both as to size and color. Then Americans imported some of the specially fine varieties from China and Japan as models for the masters of hybridization in this country.

Kingstonians and those passing through Kingston do not need to go further than the witching beauty of Burgevin's flower shop window, corner of Main and Fair streets, to see chrysanthemums that surpass the Oriental blooms in many ways. The floriculturist's art is shown quite as much in producing a dwarf flower of fairy-like proportions and tints, miniatures of the larger blossoms, as in producing the giant flowers that seem super-blossoms in all their gorgeous or delicate colorings and gaudy texture. The chrysanthemum exhibit at the Burgevin Shop is really only an invitation to visit the greenhouses on Pearl street, where these flowers, many of them prize-winners, are growing and blooming in profusion.

At present the little fellows of the chrysanthemum family are particularly fashionable, and what is more these dainty varieties are hardy and can be grown in one's own dooryard. Some of them are: Bright Eyes, delicate pink with a deep red center; Hilda Canning, vivid orange; Golden Baby, vivid yellow; Minnie, bright pink; Anna Moran, rich mahogany; Baby Margaret, white.

Among the flowers a little larger, such as those which are pretty for home decoration, is a new variety which is very beautiful, an anemone flowering chrysanthemum whose name is Titan Beauty and it surely is a little red-haired goddess of a color. Another of a very deep gold color is the Source d'Or and the Easton Quinquina is rich mahogany color edged with gold.

There are two greenhouses filled with these smaller potted plants in full and coming bloom with perfect green foliage, forming a mass of color to put to blush any Oriental.

There are several houses of the ramoth varieties, many of the plants bearing their gorgeous blooms in stalks four or five feet high. One of the new ones is Mary L. Clark, a large white feathery flower with gold pink edging the petals. Among the old favorites are perfect specimens of the oldest of them all, a yellow beauty, Major Bonifon, Orange Queen, of sunset color; Yellow King, Indian Summer, softly tinting from mahogany to gold; the three, Chadwick, white, delicate mauve and yellow, all feathery; Timothy Eaton and Yellow Eaton; and many others.

Already two chrysanthemum houses have been stripped of their plants, for the chrysanthemums begin to bloom in September, so that the earliest variety has finished blooming. Now is the heyday of the chrysanthemum world, and it will last up to Thanksgiving with here and there blooms coming later. Finally about Christmas time will come the beautiful, large Mistletoe chrysanthemums in shades of yellow and pink.

Kingston's chrysanthemum show at the Burgevin greenhouses is well worth seeing, especially just at this time. Of course, there are other greenhouses with nine thousand carnation plants in bloom, rose houses aplenty, smaller houses of oncoming cyclamen of gorgeous color, but that is another story. In passing, there may be those fond of roses who will be interested in three new roses just coming into bloom. They all have the exquisitely pointed buds. Fontanelle shades from old gold to pink; Souvenir Parnet is golden yellow, and Florex is coral pink.

But after all chrysanthemums are the thing to see now both at the Burgevin shop and greenhouses.

Rumors Denied

The Real Music

One will lose no music by not attending the oratorios and operas. The really inspiring melodies are cheap and universal, and are as audible to the poor man's son as to the rich man's. Listening to the harmonies of the universe is not allied to disaffection. My neighbors have gone to the vestry to hear Ned Kendal, the tugger tonight, but I am come forth to the hills to hear say hammer in the heart zone. I can forget the seeming advantages of cities without mistaking. No heavenly strain is lost to the ear that is fitted to hear it.—Thoreau.

Aquarium Cement

Cement for panes in aquariums is produced from litharge and glycerin. The former must be as finely powdered as possible, and the glycerin very condensed, of a syrupy consistency and limpid. Mix the two ingredients into a semisolid paste, coat the panes, or pour the tough mass into the respective cavity, and press into it the part to be cemented on. The surplus oozing out must be removed at once and the place cleaned, as the putty hardens very rapidly.

Found at Last

The harassed looking man was being shown over some works. "That machine," said his guide, "does the work of 30 men." The man smiled glumly. "At last," he said, "I have seen what my wife should have married."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.) New York—Gene Tunney would pay half of what he was at Chicago to get a film drama off the market. It's not the one showing him on the floor, either. It's one made before then. "I'm not an actor," he explains. "I'm through kidding myself about that and attempting to cash in either on the stage or in the movies."

Princeton, N. J.—Among the alumni of Princeton come to see the team play Ohio State was a noted floosier who had some fear, not that poor eyesight would prevent a view of the gridiron, but that joyful classmates might call on him to repeat his undergraduate specialty—the staging of "Danny Deever." Booth Tarkington says the last time the song was demanded, he claimed he couldn't sing it, then proceeded to prove it.

New York—Golfers and bridge players, beware! Dr. J. A. Craig of Greenwood, Ind., says the man returning from the links who has contracted a cold and the woman who has played bridge late and by loss of sleep has developed a headache are most ready victims of narcotics. Dr. Craig gave his views to the world conference on narcotic education.

Oceanside, New York—Two hundred gallon stills and six rats of liquor have been confiscated on the estate of Mrs. Frank Tinney which she acquired at a judgment sale in lieu of alimony the comedian owed her.

Paterson, N. J.—Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider, married 40 years, are to celebrate by inviting a needy person to dinner every Sunday for a year. Charitable agencies will supply the guests.

Naples—The Duke of Apulia, aviator, is equipped for an aerial honeymoon with Princess Anne of France. One of his presents, from the royal aeronautic corps, is a valise fitted with toilet articles for use on aerial voyages.

New York—You may now have vaudeville and meals with your Turkish bath. A hotel advertises such. The audience or diners must wear bathrobes.

Birds of One Family

The biological survey says that tail but is a common name for the night hawk. The whippoorwill belongs to the same family, but is found only in and around dense timber, while the night hawk is a bird of the open, ordinarily seen flying over cities. The night hawk is conspicuous in having a wide white patch on its lower wings, while the wings of the whippoorwill are much shorter and have a light buffy patch.

The Week in Wall Street

New York, Nov. 5 (AP).—The stock market made substantial recovery this week from the recent low levels. Some irregularity developed, however, as the week closed, due to aggressive bear pressure against some of the motors, steels and minor specialties. While a number of issues responded to individual developments, the rally generally was characterized as a correction of a temporarily oversold position.
Money rates turned easy after the first of the month requirements had been met, the official rate being reduced to 3 1/2 per cent with outside loans available as low as 4 per cent. Some surprise was expressed at the increase in brokers' loans covering a period of declining stock prices, but this was explained by the heavy temporary financing in connection with new bond flotations.
The rise in the steel shares was checked by disappointing trade news, particularly the weakening commodity price tendency in recent weeks. The spectre of Ford competition was again brought forward to stimulate liquidation of the motors although a few strong spots developed in that group.
Three classes of stocks which responded to reports of improved trade conditions were the coppers, oils and tobaccos. The rise in coppers was accelerated by an increase in the export price of copper and lower domestic stocks, Calumet and Arizona being the individual feature. Declining crude oil production and heavy gasoline consumption provided the ground work for the advance in the oils.
Tobaccos were helped by reports of large cigarette sales, and prospects of good holiday trade. Despite official denials of reports of an early stock splitup, American tobacco issues soared to record high levels.
Special strength also developed in a number of specialties such as American Home Products, Adams Express, American Railways Express, American Linseed, Radio Corporation, United Drug, Christie Brown and American Can, all of which registered new peak prices for the year. On the other hand, American Piano, Electric Refrigeration, Foundation Company, Remington Rand and Cuban American Sugar sank to new 1927 low levels. Rubbers turned heavy on the announcement of tire price cuts.
Establishment of a new record high for all time by Southern Railway and brisk recoveries in some of the recently weak low priced issues such as Wabash and Missouri Pacific featured the railroad group.

Drinking Water Is Essential.
Water, useful for so many purposes, is essential to human life. Six or eight glasses a day are required. But it must be pure or it may cause sickness. Clean dirt in water may not be harmful, but if dirt can get into water so can germs and some of them may produce disease. On the other hand never forget that perfectly clear sparkling water may contain harmful germs.
In order to keep dirt out of water New York state goes to great expense. The department of health has on record the results of examinations of all the public water supplies in the state, some of which have been checked up many times during the past few years. Last year inspections were made of 357 municipal water supplies, and samples of most of them were sent to the State Laboratory at Albany for chemical and bacteriological tests.
"No community can afford to disregard the reports of such water examinations for serious results have followed failure to heed the advice given by the department regarding the protection or purification of public water supplies."

Making Water Supply Safe.
There are several ways that a water supply may be treated to make it safe for human use. In some cities the water is settled, filtered and treated chemically, the process depending on the source, the amount of contamination and the dirtiness of the raw water. In other places chemical treatment with chlorine may be enough. It is essential that this chlorination be continuous and not interrupted and to make sure of this the State Department of Health requires water supply companies to keep on hand either spare parts for repairs or an extra treatment apparatus. More and more are we coming to the idea that untreated water is potentially a dangerous supply.
"Our forefathers had another source for their 'Peck O' Dirt'—milk—and again along with the dirt there were germs. Everyone now realizes that milk in order to be wholesome must be up to certain standards laid down by the Sanitary Code of the State.
"To protect water and milk supplies and to make them safe requires considerable time and effort on the part of local and state health authorities. And what are all of these precautions and labor for? Why, just so you won't have to eat your 'Peck O' Dirt' and perhaps with it disease germs which may make you sick."

Simple Home Recipe
For Bad Stomach
Gives Swift Relief
If you are a victim of Stomach Trouble—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this good advice.
Artificial digestants and starvation diets are seldom needed. Within reason, most folks may eat what they like, if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion. And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bismarck Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless remedy that keeps your stomach sweet and clean.
A few days' trial of Bismarck Magnesia tablets, which any good drugstore can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that fully 90% of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Try Bismarck Magnesia tablets today!

Under Oath Say Schirick Was On Job

UNDER OATHS, SHERIFF RICE AND MISS JEANETTE COSTELLO, FOR 22 YEARS STENOGRAPHER IN THE COURT, TELL OF EXACT NUMBER OF DAYS HE WAS ABSENT—PRESENT MANY DAYS WHEN ASSISTANT WAS ON BENCH—ABSENT WHEN UNDER TREATMENT FOR BLOOD POISONING—ABSENT WHEN FATHER'S DEATH IMPENDED—ALSO AFFIDAVIT BY DR. JOHN G. O'LEARY.

The charge has been made that Harry E. Schirick, when in the office of city judge, did not perform his duties for 119 days during two years of his second term. The charge is made in a public print, to-wit, a newspaper, that he was engaged in politics, personal business or social duties and amenities.
It is one thing to make a charge, or an allegation, or a statement. It is easy for some unknown or unmentioned or anonymous person to say most anything.
It is another thing for a man or a woman, who knows FACTS, to state those facts and swear to them before a notary public. If anybody knows the facts of Judge Schirick's work in the city court, of his attendance at court and his non-attendance, or his reasons for being absent, when he was absent, these two individuals are the two who were closely connected with the work of the court, one of them for eight years, the other for twenty-two years.
Arthur Rice, for nearly a year sheriff of Ulster County, and a man of entire responsibility and unquestioned veracity, was city marshal during the eight years that Judge Schirick was in the city court.
Miss Jeanette V. Costello was stenographer in the city court for twenty-two years, and was clerk of the court during the eight years that Judge Schirick was in the office.
Both of them have personal knowledge of the presence of Judge Schirick in his court during these eight years, of his absence from the court and of the reasons for his absence, when he was absent. They have made a joint affidavit covering the absence of Judge Schirick during the years he spent as Judge of the court.

AFFIDAVIT BY SHERIFF RICE AND MISS COSTELLO
This affidavit is as follows:
STATE OF NEW YORK,
SS.
COUNTY OF ULSTER.
ARTHUR RICE and JEANETTE V. COSTELLO,
being duly sworn, depose and say: The said Arthur Rice, that he was City Marshal of the City of Kingston during the eight years that Harry E. Schirick was City Judge of said City of Kingston; and the said Jeanette V. Costello says that for twenty-two years she was stenographer of the City Court and that during the eight years that Harry E. Schirick was Judge of the City Court she was Clerk of the said City Court;

That during the first year that Judge Schirick was Judge of the said City Court that there was an Acting City Judge of said City Court who was paid Five Dollars per day during each day that the City Judge Harry E. Schirick, was absent, disqualified to act or unable to act; that during the first year the Acting City Judge served but thirty-six days.
That under the Charter of the City of Kingston, the Judge was entitled to three weeks vacation; that during the next five years the said Harry E. Schirick did not take three consecutive weeks of vacation; that his absence from the City Court bench were at times only when he was disqualified to act in any particular case, when there was no business pending for trial before the Court.
That during the two last years of said Harry E. Schirick's service as City Judge, to-wit, the years 1924 and 1925, it has been stated in public print that he had been absent 119 days. That the said deponents, Arthur Rice and Jeanette V. Costello, have gone over the dockets in the City Judge's office and checked the same and from such checking and from their knowledge of the facts herein set forth they do say: that during said two years the Acting City Judge presided at trials either civil or criminal 101 days; that on a great proportion of said days the said Harry E. Schirick was present at the office conducting either a civil case while the Acting City Judge was conducting a criminal case or vice versa; that on many of the occasions that the Acting Judge was presiding at either civil or criminal case the said Harry E. Schirick was conducting an examination in private pursuant to criminal summonses issued, the said system of summonses instead of warrants having been inaugurated by the said Harry E. Schirick in City Court.

That deponents both knew Eustace Schirick, the father of the said Harry E. Schirick. That the said Eustace Schirick died November 22, 1924. That for fully three weeks prior to his death, his death was imminent and daily expected; that during said three weeks or more the said Harry E. Schirick was absent from the City Court except on occasional visits during the day from time to time.
That during the year of 1925 deponents recall that the said Harry E. Schirick was infected with blood poisoning in his wrist and was for four weeks disabled and unable to attend to the duties of the office excepting occasional days; that during the years 1924 and 1925 he did not take three consecutive weeks' vacation; that when the said Harry E. Schirick was absent from City Court it was on occasions when his presence was not required or when the work was the lightest.
That during the said two years, 1924 and 1925, under the Charter of the City of Kingston the Acting City Judge was paid a salary of $500.00 per year whether he acted as Judge of the City Court or whether he did not act.

That during the said eight years that the said Harry E. Schirick served as City Judge of the City of Kingston for the first time in the history of City Court and Recorder's Court he inaugurated the practice of holding jury trials at night for the reason that the fee of jurors was but twenty-five cents for service as a juror in civil cases and the fee for jurors in criminal cases was nothing; that the said Harry E. Schirick also during a portion of that period was likewise Judge of Children's Court and held Children's Court at night and whenever it interfered with the Children's attendance at school.
ARTHUR RICE.
JEANETTE V. COSTELLO.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3rd day of November, 1927.
HENRY BERNSTEIN,
Notary Public.

AFFIDAVIT BY DR. JOHN G. O'LEARY.
Touching on the matter of the absence of Judge Schirick from his office during the time referred to by Sheriff Rice and Miss Costello, when they aver he was ill and under the care of a doctor, Dr. John G. O'Leary, one of the best known physicians and surgeons in the city, and from the time he first came to Kingston to the present day, personal friend of Judge Schirick, submits the following affidavit, to the effect that he had treated and operated on Judge Schirick, who was suffering with blood poisoning:
STATE OF NEW YORK,
SS.
COUNTY OF ULSTER.
JOHN G. O'LEARY of No. 131 Fair Street, Kingston, New York, being duly sworn, deposes and says:
That he is a duly licensed and practicing physician of the State of New York and during the several years last past has practiced his profession in the City of Kingston.
That during the year 1925 deponent attended Harry E. Schirick at No. 193 Downs Street for blood poisoning; that the said Harry E. Schirick had blood poisoning in his left wrist; that the said Harry E. Schirick was under deponent's care and attention covering a period of four consecutive weeks; that deponent operated on said Harry E. Schirick for blood poisoning two times; that during said four weeks, the said Harry E. Schirick was during said time, confined to his home except on several occasions deponent permitted the said Harry E. Schirick to go down to the City Hall.
JOHN G. O'LEARY.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3rd day of November, 1927.
HENRY BERNSTEIN,
Notary Public.

AN EVIDENCE OF PEOPLE'S SATISFACTION

Judge Schirick was as conscientious a judge as the city court ever had. He was elected in 1917 to the office with a majority of 378. After having served as City Judge for four years, he was renominated and so satisfactory was his first term to the people that his majority was 4,482. He said at that time that he would serve his second term and that it would be as satisfactory as the first term to the people, and that he would not accept another nomination. He kept his word.
He was entirely satisfactory to the people as city judge. He will be equally as satisfactory to them as mayor. Elect him and see.

AFFIDAVIT BY SHERIFF RICE AND MISS COSTELLO
This affidavit is as follows:
STATE OF NEW YORK,
SS.
COUNTY OF ULSTER.
ARTHUR RICE and JEANETTE V. COSTELLO,
being duly sworn, depose and say: The said Arthur Rice, that he was City Marshal of the City of Kingston during the eight years that Harry E. Schirick was City Judge of said City of Kingston; and the said Jeanette V. Costello says that for twenty-two years she was stenographer of the City Court and that during the eight years that Harry E. Schirick was Judge of the City Court she was Clerk of the said City Court;

That during the first year that Judge Schirick was Judge of the said City Court that there was an Acting City Judge of said City Court who was paid Five Dollars per day during each day that the City Judge Harry E. Schirick, was absent, disqualified to act or unable to act; that during the first year the Acting City Judge served but thirty-six days.

Schirick did not take three consecutive weeks of vacation; that his absence from the City Court bench were at times only when he was disqualified to act in any particular case, when there was no business pending for trial before the Court.
That during the two last years of said Harry E. Schirick's service as City Judge, to-wit, the years 1924 and 1925, it has been stated in public print that he had been absent 119 days. That the said deponents, Arthur Rice and Jeanette V. Costello, have gone over the dockets in the City Judge's office and checked the same and from such checking and from their knowledge of the facts herein set forth they do say: that during said two years the Acting City Judge presided at trials either civil or criminal 101 days; that on a great proportion of said days the said Harry E. Schirick was present at the office conducting either a civil case while the Acting City Judge was conducting a criminal case or vice versa; that on many of the occasions that the Acting Judge was presiding at either civil or criminal case the said Harry E. Schirick in City Court.

That deponents both knew Eustace Schirick, the father of the said Harry E. Schirick. That the said Eustace Schirick died November 22, 1924. That for fully three weeks prior to his death, his death was imminent and daily expected; that during said three weeks or more the said Harry E. Schirick was absent from the City Court except on occasional visits during the day from time to time.
That during the year of 1925 deponents recall that the said Harry E. Schirick was infected with blood poisoning in his wrist and was for four weeks disabled and unable to attend to the duties of the office excepting occasional days; that during the years 1924 and 1925 he did not take three consecutive weeks' vacation; that when the said Harry E. Schirick was absent from City Court it was on occasions when his presence was not required or when the work was the lightest.
That during the said two years, 1924 and 1925, under the Charter of the City of Kingston the Acting City Judge was paid a salary of $500.00 per year whether he acted as Judge of the City Court or whether he did not act.

That during the said eight years that the said Harry E. Schirick served as City Judge of the City of Kingston for the first time in the history of City Court and Recorder's Court he inaugurated the practice of holding jury trials at night for the reason that the fee of jurors was but twenty-five cents for service as a juror in civil cases and the fee for jurors in criminal cases was nothing; that the said Harry E. Schirick also during a portion of that period was likewise Judge of Children's Court and held Children's Court at night and whenever it interfered with the Children's attendance at school.

AFFIDAVIT BY DR. JOHN G. O'LEARY.
Touching on the matter of the absence of Judge Schirick from his office during the time referred to by Sheriff Rice and Miss Costello, when they aver he was ill and under the care of a doctor, Dr. John G. O'Leary, one of the best known physicians and surgeons in the city, and from the time he first came to Kingston to the present day, personal friend of Judge Schirick, submits the following affidavit, to the effect that he had treated and operated on Judge Schirick, who was suffering with blood poisoning:
STATE OF NEW YORK,
SS.
COUNTY OF ULSTER.
JOHN G. O'LEARY of No. 131 Fair Street, Kingston, New York, being duly sworn, deposes and says:
That he is a duly licensed and practicing physician of the State of New York and during the several years last past has practiced his profession in the City of Kingston.
That during the year 1925 deponent attended Harry E. Schirick at No. 193 Downs Street for blood poisoning; that the said Harry E. Schirick had blood poisoning in his left wrist; that the said Harry E. Schirick was under deponent's care and attention covering a period of four consecutive weeks; that deponent operated on said Harry E. Schirick for blood poisoning two times; that during said four weeks, the said Harry E. Schirick was during said time, confined to his home except on several occasions deponent permitted the said Harry E. Schirick to go down to the City Hall.

Under Oath Say Schirick Was On Job

UNDER OATHS, SHERIFF RICE AND MISS JEANETTE COSTELLO, FOR 22 YEARS STENOGRAPHER IN THE COURT, TELL OF EXACT NUMBER OF DAYS HE WAS ABSENT—PRESENT MANY DAYS WHEN ASSISTANT WAS ON BENCH—ABSENT WHEN UNDER TREATMENT FOR BLOOD POISONING—ABSENT WHEN FATHER'S DEATH IMPENDED—ALSO AFFIDAVIT BY DR. JOHN G. O'LEARY.

The charge has been made that Harry E. Schirick, when in the office of city judge, did not perform his duties for 119 days during two years of his second term. The charge is made in a public print, to-wit, a newspaper, that he was engaged in politics, personal business or social duties and amenities.
It is one thing to make a charge, or an allegation, or a statement. It is easy for some unknown or unmentioned or anonymous person to say most anything.
It is another thing for a man or a woman, who knows FACTS, to state those facts and swear to them before a notary public. If anybody knows the facts of Judge Schirick's work in the city court, of his attendance at court and his non-attendance, or his reasons for being absent, when he was absent, these two individuals are the two who were closely connected with the work of the court, one of them for eight years, the other for twenty-two years.
Arthur Rice, for nearly a year sheriff of Ulster County, and a man of entire responsibility and unquestioned veracity, was city marshal during the eight years that Judge Schirick was in the city court.
Miss Jeanette V. Costello was stenographer in the city court for twenty-two years, and was clerk of the court during the eight years that Judge Schirick was in the office.
Both of them have personal knowledge of the presence of Judge Schirick in his court during these eight years, of his absence from the court and of the reasons for his absence, when he was absent. They have made a joint affidavit covering the absence of Judge Schirick during the years he spent as Judge of the court.

AFFIDAVIT BY SHERIFF RICE AND MISS COSTELLO
This affidavit is as follows:

Milton J. Cross At Victory Ball

One of Famous Broadcasters of Station WJZ to Take Prominent Part in Radio Show at American Legion Ball on November 11.

MILTON J. CROSS

Another famous character to appear at the American Legion Victory Ball in the Kingston Army November 11 is Milton J. Cross. He will take a prominent part in the radio show entitled, "A night in the stations of WJZ and WEAF," preceding the dance. Each act is timed to the second and the performance will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

Milton J. Cross is the oldest announcer in years of service with Station WJZ, first entering the field in October, 1922, and probably is close to the top in that class with all of the radio announcers in the world, as Station WJZ is generally acknowledged to be the second oldest broadcasting station in the world.

Cross was born in New York city in 1897, graduating from the DeWitt Clinton High School and later completed the Musical Supervisors' Course of the Damrosch Institute of Musical Art. Following this, he toured for several seasons with the Paoli Chorus, during which he covered the entire eastern half of the United States. He left that organization to engage in concert and church work as a soloist and sang in the First Presbyterian Church in New York and as a member of the quartet of the Progressive Synagogue. His reputation for this type of work brought him before the microphone of Station WJZ in its early days, when the transmitter was located in Newark, N. J. He was one of the pioneer broadcasters and as the executives of the station were looking for an announcer who could "fill in," the post was offered to him. Cross had the foresight to realize the potentialities of radio as an entertainment factor and accepted.

Classical events are Cross's specialty, where his musical training stands him in good stead. Confining his announcing to only the classical concerts, he is usually able to obtain a copy of the program to be played at each event several days in advance. He then familiarizes himself with the compositions to be rendered, the lives of their composers, and all of the interesting details, so that when he comes before the microphone, he is able to give the listeners a good verbal introduction to the piece to be heard and if it is necessary for him to "plug the air" for a time, with the many interesting facts with which he has stocked himself to give out, he never becomes boring. When broadcasting an opera, Cross has been known to spend 15 to 20 hours in the Music Department of the New York Public Library, piecing out the score, comparing the lyrics, studying the life of the composer and comparing the opera to be broadcast with the same man's other works. When his studies have been completed he faces the microphone with the full knowledge that there is little about the opera that he doesn't know. His remarks reflect that knowledge and in turn the applause mail which follows the broadcast shows that the radio audience appreciate the industry of Cross on their behalf as much as the opera itself. Cross is a hard worker, and feels that he is being rewarded by being placed by a great majority of the listening public at the top of the ladder.

Geroldsek Won't Neglect Duty or Split His Time

Republican Candidate for County Clerk Devotes
Time to Earning Salary as Deputy Instead of Campaigning on Taxpayers' Time—He Has No Other Business Interests.

WALTER G. GEROLDEK.

The election of Walter G. Geroldsek to the office of county clerk will mean the election of a man who is not only competent to fill the office but will mean the election of a man who will devote all of his attention to the duties of that office. Mr. Geroldsek has no other business interests and it elected will give all of his attention, time and ability to the conduct of the office. His twelve years as deputy county clerk have made him familiar with the many duties and if elected he will not be compelled to divide his time between the duties of his public office and any personal business interests.

The duties at the office of the county clerk are numerous and as deputy county clerk he has devoted all of his time to the work of the county. Owing to these duties at the office during business hours, and frequently long after business hours, it has been impossible for Mr. Geroldsek to get about the county and meet all of the people whom he would have met had he been able to spare the time. It has not been due to indifference or a desire to avoid meeting the people that he has been kept from visiting many sections of the county but in order not to neglect the duties of his office he has been compelled by lack of time to forego visiting many sections. This faithful duty to his public office is typical of Mr. Geroldsek who never since holding the office of deputy clerk has allowed any personal business to interfere with the proper and faithful attention to his duties. If elected to the office of county clerk Mr. Geroldsek may be depended upon to devote all of his time and attention to the personal supervision of the many duties which the county clerk is called upon to perform.

NEW PALTZ.

New Paltz, Nov. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Poucher, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zimmerman and Mrs. Daigle visited Chelsea Hospital last Sunday. This hospital is for veterans of the World War who have tuberculosis. Last year the New Palz Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion took care of a Mr. Costello of Kingston, who was at this hospital and who has since returned to his home.

Alice Corbett attended the Yale Army football game played at New Haven, Conn., this past week end. Junior Literary Club was organized by Mr. Bennett on Tuesday evening at the school. There were about 94 members enrolled and the following officers were elected: President, Marian Lapine; vice-president, Polly Parrot; treasurer and secretary, Eleanor Malloy. There were also appointed a committee of three to look after the program for the coming meetings.

Florence Abbott spent the week end in Englewood, N. J., visiting her mother, who has just returned from a trip to Bermuda. Miss Helen Williams a graduate with the class of '25 spent the past week end in town. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Carson and their niece, Miss Pearl Diamond of Kingston came to New Palz Sunday and took Mrs. Carson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Krom for a motor trip through the Catskills, going by way of High Falls and Stone Ridge.

to Ashokan and back through Hunter, Lexington, Catskill and Sagerties.

Miss Alice Thompson of the Normal spent the week end in Highland as the guest of her aunt, Miss Grace L. Bridge.

Francis X. Murphy and his brother William Murphy, of Poughkeepsie, were guests of their niece, Miss Marion Fritz at the Normal School on Thursday.

Miss Emily Hasbrouck is spending some time with her sister, Miss Jennie Wilklow who is ill at Highland.

George Mathieson has secured a position in Newburgh. The recent rains have brought the Lake at Mohonk up to 14 inches below high water mark. Thursday afternoon the Fellowship Club, once a fortnight class of the Methodist Church, will meet followed by a supper, business meeting and social time.

Mrs. Alois Kniffen called on friends in Esopus on Sunday.

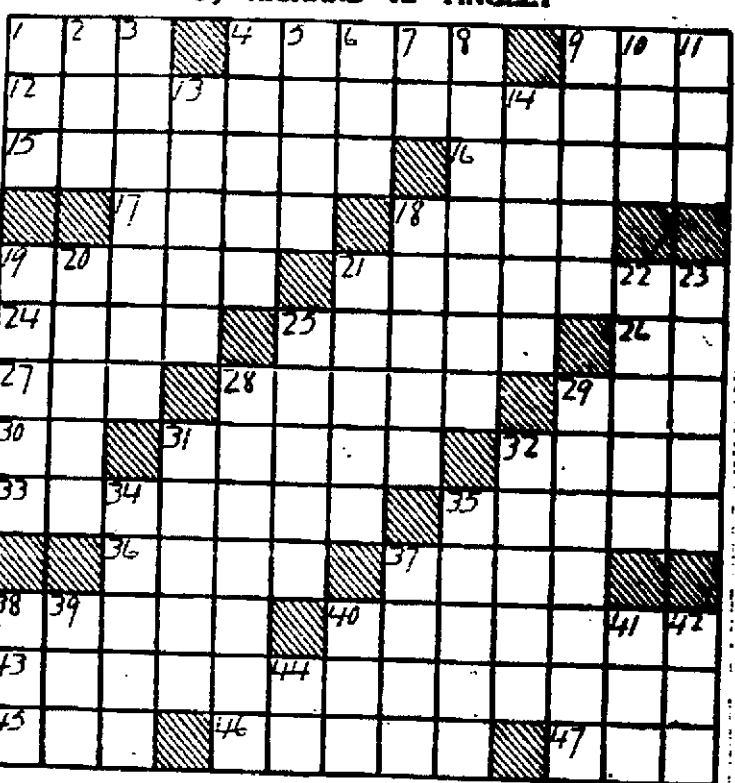

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Krom motored last Sunday, October 23, to Newburgh with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Carson of Kingston.

Miss Ruth Dykeman and girl friend spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. Dykeman in Pawling.

The monthly meeting of the Seekers' Class of the Methodist Church was held Wednesday afternoon, November 2, at the home of the teacher, Miss Dora Allen. Those present were Mrs. Ella Butz, Mrs. Conklin, Mrs. Frank Galina, Mrs. Fred Mack, Mrs. Thomas Krom, Mrs. Abel Quick, Mrs. Hiecock, Mrs. Harold Van Kleeck, Mrs. Edith Van Valen and daughter, Ruth, Mrs. McGuire, Mrs. Lewis Van Demark, Mrs. Webb Kniffen, Mrs. Oakley and Miss Dora Allen.

Who Is Judge Schirick?

HARRY E. SCHIRICK, the Democratic Candidate for Mayor of the City of Kingston, was born in the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York. Most of his life has been spent in the City of Kingston. He was graduated from Kingston High School and from the Cornell Law School. He was elected City Judge of the City of Kingston when the office of Recorder and City Judge were consolidated, and the office so consolidated came to be known as City Court of the City of Kingston. He served the City of Kingston as City Judge for eight years. The term of City Judge under the consolidation act was four years. The people of the City of Kingston so appreciated the record he had made in City Court and the attention he had given to his office that they re-elected him a second time by a majority of 4,482!

The forces opposed to ex-Judge Schirick's election as Mayor of the City of Kingston have insinuated that, if elected, he would not devote his entire time to the duties of Mayor. The persons constituting those forces are oblivious to a local law passed in 1927 which provides that:

"He (the mayor) shall devote substantially all of his time to the duties of office."

Not only does the law require that the Mayor shall devote all of his time to the duties of the office but Judge Schirick has stated over his signature, and this statement has been published, that he would, if elected, be found working day in and day out for Kingston and for its best interests and the best interests of the people of the city. He will devote all of his time to the office.

Judge Schirick's social affiliations are as follows: He is a member of the Masons (Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M.), Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, No. 37, Kingston B. P. O. E., No. 550, American Mechanics (Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91), Independent Order of Odd Fellows (Aretas Lodge, No. 172), and the Kingston Club.

He is a member of the English Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

THE IRREGULAR HEM-LINE HAS GONE TO EXTREMES—THE NECK-LINE TOO HAS TAKEN ON SOMETHING OF THE SAME CHARACTERISTICS.
New York.—The most sensational style note that the season appears to be developing is the irregularity peculiar to skirt lengths. At first, it seemed usual, to say the least, to have one side, or the back of a skirt escape the ground by a narrow margin, while the rest of it frankly shows almost to the knee. Such, however, is now the usual arrangement. Knees, it now appears, are no longer permitted to be uncovered, although skirts permit glimpses of them now and then. Dance frocks that have a short, unbroken hem-being shown extensively at smart furriers.

Fortunately, all smart coats are not lavishly furred. On the contrary, some of the very smartest sponsor the untrimmed tweed coat, or the woolen coat of futuristic pattern. Oxford, which as every one knows, is a dark gray mixture, is especially favored just now, and is frequently smartly collared with either black Russian pony or caracul. Krimmer and kid caracul are entries for fall favor. One shop famous for its good-looking sports wear advocates navy fur-trimmed coats for winter sports. This brings to mind that one of the great French houses sponsored a blue, almost as deep as navy, for evening dresses, using velvet as the fabric.

One reads much about the black with beige and of beige with navy. Gray is also a good coat color, and certain shades of red, notably ruby and rubyan, with certain greens may be mentioned, in case one forgets there is anything but black and brown from which to choose.

Flat Furs Have a Chic All Their Own—Tweed and Oxford Cloth Coats May or May Not Be Fur-Trimmed, To Be Smart

New York.—Most women, while conceding that long furs are more flattering, admit that short ones seem to have the call this season. There are, of course, certain furs that one identifies with sports wear, such as opossum or raccoon. This season the list is all but endless, and includes furs that all but convince one that a new sort of animal has been discovered. Furriers go on merrily dyeing pelts, greatly to our delight, but to our utter confusion. Fur is far from what it seems, but is none the less thought of for that. The fur sports coat now has a recognized standing. It is favored, ap-proportionately, by the younger set, and in such furs as leopard, beaver, chipmunk and so on, as well as calf, gazelle, and reindeer, to say nothing of shaved lamb. American broadtail has Parisian sponsorship,

Even the gyper, which binds the hips, is now adjusted so that one gets an impression of a raised line from some angle. Now and then one comes upon a stunning dress that ignores the "middle section"—a term borrowed from broadcasters of boxing bouts—but the vast majority of successful models pay deference to the natural curves of the figure, without, however, making any attempt to emphasize them.

The bolero, about which much was written and comparatively little realized, seems again to be about to register. It is especially well liked for evening, and is often an added and detachable feature.

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the world's sweet flowing breast.
A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

If a trip to the cellar or storeroom is necessary carry a basket to save time and strength.
Keep on your desk a list of things to do—calls, letters to write, mending and other household tasks that one may forget or slight. As the task is finished cross off the list. This is a most satisfactory way of knowing what has been accomplished during a week or month. It is also an incentive to hurry up and leave a clean slate. This method is a good one for the kitchen, too; various things are forgotten that will, with a list, keep things running smoothly. A camp chair or stool which can be slipped under the table when not in use is a great convenience in a small

How Youth Studies

The average, or even somewhat better than average, male student's behavior when at work on a thesis is something like this: A leisurely stroll to the library, a chat with the girl at the reserve desk, an apologetic request for a philosophy book, a few minutes spent in settling down in the most comfortable position possible in a library chair, the counting of the pages in a chapter, a half-hearted effort to read three or four pages, a yawn—and for the remainder of the afternoon a semi-conscious conversation with the girl in the nearest chair.

Narrow Bowknots Back on Paris Fashion Card

After several seasons of extraneous bowknot trimmings are back. A shoulder bow of the same material as the dress or coat is one of Paris' latest trimming ideas.
Afternoon dress of crepe and satin particularly display this simple form of decoration. The bows are usually tied with small loops and long ends of narrow double thickness of material. Rows of velvet ribbon are also used, though to a lesser extent.

Boys' Division
Banquet at "Y"

The members of the Y. M. C. A. boys' division banquet in the dining hall of the Y. M. C. A. building at 1225-7 as well for the annual campaign that was held at the time the banquet was held. The program was entirely different from the usual program. Three students of Rutgers were present and put on a program of college talks and the young men were Theodore, Clarence Howard, and Wardick, and their program was appreciated by all the boys.

The supper was served by Mrs. M. J. of the Ladies' Auxiliary and was assisted by several other women.

As a preliminary part of the program, the Y. M. C. A. presented a play with medals on behalf of the boys' division. The following were the winners of the medals.

Class A:
Henry Susan, 1320 points, a gold medal.
Homer Brown, 1310, a silver medal.
Eugene Webber, 1294, a bronze medal.

Class B:
Edward Minasian, 1752, a gold medal.
Harold Gilday, 1548, a silver medal.
Robert Graeme, 1240, a bronze medal.

Class C:
Alton Rosa, 571, a gold medal.
Kenneth Kennedy, 674, a silver medal.
Chris Weerner, 639, a bronze medal.

Class D:
William W. 1022, a gold medal.
Warren Herwig, 905, a silver medal.
Frank Doyle, 856, a bronze medal.

A silver plaque was also presented to the captains of the various teams which had won the championships during the past season. This plaque will hang on the walls of the boys' division rooms.

Emblems were presented to the boys for winning them at the various sports during the summer months: Lawrence Van Etten, Wallace Bailey, Herman Arlonsky, Dwight McEntee, Jr., Earl Van Valkenburg, Clifford Van Valkenburg, David Canfield.

Plans for the day were also announced as well as the meeting on Saturday afternoon at which time the boys' men will speak.

SMALL NO DELICACY
IN OLD STONE AGEBeloit Scientists Make New Discoveries in Africa.

Beloit, Wis.—The nice people of Mecha, Africa, in the days before history began, were shamelessly backward about their diet. They had snails for breakfast, snails for lunch, snails for dinner. But when it came to the matter of personal appearance the women, at least, were not so slow. They used rouge and powder in plentiful quantities—and presumably for the same general purpose of charm that prompts the charmers of Chicago to use them in 1927.

Such are the deductions of Alton W. Pond of the Logan museum staff of Beloit college, Beloit, Wis., from discoveries made by himself and others on the recent Logan museum expedition to Africa.

Ground Ocher for Rouge.
"The art of enhancing human beauty by the use of color seems to be as old as man," he said. "The deposit of Mecha yielded primitive rouge or face powder in the form of red and yellow ocher. Flat stones were found on which the colored earth had been crushed to powder."

"The excavations gave us no direct evidence that the fair ones of Aurignacian times painted their faces red or yellow, but almost every modern woman uses the material so frequently that its mere presence in archeological deposits causes the investigator to assume that the people either painted their faces or tattooed them with these brilliant colors."

Regarding the diet, Mr. Pond said: "They ate snails—big snails, little snails, medium-sized snails, long snails, short snails, broad snails, narrow snails. They must have eaten snails for breakfast, snails for lunch, snails for dinner. Probably they had snail soup, snail hors d'oeuvres, snail for the fish course, even snails for dessert."

"But just when one becomes convinced," he added, "that snails were their sole food, a pick uncovers the leg bone of a huge ox or the jawbone of some ruminant. Bone marrow must have been a delicacy, for all the bones were broken so that it could easily be extracted."

Old Stone-Age Folk.
Mecha el Arbi, said Mr. Pond, is a great mound of small shells, ashes, broken bones and hearthstones, 150 yards long and 100 yards wide, located on a high plateau about thirty miles west of Constantine, Algeria. There the Logan museum conducted excavations last winter, which indicated, in Professor Pond's opinion, that the mound was the camp site of a paleolithic people, probably of the Aurignacian race, which also lived in Europe some 30,000 or 35,000 years ago.

The material collected consisted of worked flint and bone implements and animal remains left from feasts.

Halt Sawdust Waste;
Make Plaster of It

Washington.—Sawdust is no longer considered a waste product. Its many uses range from the manufacture of dolls to dynamite, according to a statement made by Axel H. Oxholm, director of the national committee on wood utilization, Department of Commerce.

About 10 per cent of the average sawing represents sawdust produced in converting the raw material into lumber. Mr. Oxholm states, however, that this sawdust has been considered a waste product, but industry has spent millions of dollars in developing profitable uses for it. Sawdust should, therefore, be termed "nonutilized wood" and not "waste," because it has important potential uses, the department contends.

The 63 sawmills operating in Illinois are big producers of sawdust. Formerly the United States imported large quantities of porcelain dolls from Europe, but this trade has now been replaced by a new doll industry, using wood flour instead of porcelain.

More than 15,000 tons of wood flour are used in the manufacture of linoleum. It is also utilized in making oatmeal wall paper, artificial wood and other molded products. Over 7,000 tons of wood flour are used in the manufacture of dynamite.

Although the United States possesses a greater variety of raw material for the manufacturing of wood flour than any other country, it is still importing from Europe over one-fifth of the total requirements.

Old Women in France
Carry Loads of Stone

Dieppe, France.—Nearly all old women do the heavy work of porters here in the fish markets and on the beach, where they carry loads of stone weighing 150 to 200 pounds on their backs.

These women piod from the fishing boats to the market and from the beaches to the dumping grounds carrying heavily loaded baskets. Their cheery countenances indicate that they are not overburdened.

The stones are exported to England for the manufacture of porcelain. They must be carried through slitting shingle up a steep grade to the carts. Here the carriers dump their loads by making a deep bow and allowing the stones to rush out over their heads.

About the Folks

Mrs. O. E. Hoffman, who has been confined to her bed for the past two weeks from injuries caused by a fall, is recovering.

Edward and Thomas Shanley of New York, who are visiting their uncle, James Shanley, at Nanapanoch, and incidentally are on a hunting trip, spent Friday in town calling on their cousin, John J. Faughnan, at 76 North Front street.

LAKE KATRINE.

Lake Katrine, Nov. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. William Moreland of New York city on a return trip from Canada visited Alfred Nantaram and family Wednesday.

Mrs. Annabelle Stanley recently visited relatives at Delhi, N. Y.

Robert Ennist who has been critically ill, is improving under the care of Dr. F. Eastman.

Miss Katherine Rinsley of Elizabeth, N. J., spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Harold Keator.

At the regular meeting of the Grange on Monday night election of officers for the ensuing year will be held. Each member is requested to bring their own lunch. Those serving on the refreshment committee for November are: Mrs. Mary Hollins, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jones, Mrs. Lucy Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Dimler, Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Swart, William Swart and Miss Frances and George H. Young.

PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN

The Volunteer Proof Reader, after the Fringshop Post, looks 'Round the Office, Extends the Printers, Pies Type and Soaks Up all the News in advance by Reading Proofs and the Copy on the Hook. Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 5 (AP).—Stock prices resumed their upward movement today under the leadership of the investment railroad shares. Some irregularity developed at the opening as a result of the week-end trading sales and experimental bear selling, but offerings were readily absorbed and the general market soon headed upward. Gains of 1 to 3 points were distributed over a wide variety of issues, while the advances in some of the specialties ran from four to twelve points.

Delaware and Hudson, which recently experienced a sinking spell in common with other coal-carrying roads on reports of relatively poor business, suddenly jumped 7½ points. Norfolk and Western climbed more than four points and Atchafalaya, Union Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern, Atlantic Coast Line, Chicago Northwestern and Western Maryland sold two to nearly four points higher. Northern Pacific touched a new top.

Expectations of heavy holiday trade accompanied the renewed accumulation of the mercantile shares. R. H. Macy extended its gain to 12 points and Abraham & Straus, outfit company and S. S. Kresge sold five or more points above yesterday's final quotations. In the drug group, new peak prices were established by Sterling Products, United Drug and American Home Products, all up 4 to 5 points.

Radio Corporation ran into some profit taking after its spirited advance earlier in the week and a few other soft spots developed here and there, but they were disregarded. The closing was firm. Total sales approximated $80,000 shares.

SARAJEVO SINKS INTO LETHARGY

That's Where War Started, If You've Forgotten.

Sarajevo, Yugoslavia.—This little Bosnian town, where the World War started, is getting the reputation of being one of the most picturesque and sleepy towns in the world.

Sarajevo's "twenty-four-hour" cinema and its "forty-times-forty" cemeteries, macabre and morose, symbolize the lethargy and oriental fatalism of the city.

All over the town are slender white minarets that look like funeral shafts against the grey mountains. Hither, thither and yon are Moslem cemeteries, pictures of abandonment and desolation. The headstones are toppled over, broken, leaning in every direction. The Moslems apparently do not pay much attention to their dead.

The abandoned cemeteries are typical of the spirit of indifference and negligence which dominates the town. There is a saying in Bosnia, applied especially to a homely woman, that "She is as unattractive and uninteresting as a Turkish cemetery."

The old quarter of the city is dirty and full of odors, but withal is extraordinarily picturesque and colorful. Everywhere are labyrinthine of bazaars, displaying fine copperware, silver filigree work, delicately made linens and lace, rugs and other oriental wares. The streets, especially the narrow and devious lanes in the Turkish quarter, present scenes of endless variety and interest.

Women dressed in fairly modern European style elude the ghostly figures of black draped, heavily veiled Turkish women. Gayly clad Moslem girls, with bright woolen scarves over their heads, slide deftly in and out through the crowd. In the narrow, boothlike bazaars Mohammedan men in their national dress gaze bewilderingly at a group of American tourists dressed in short skirts and "plus fours."

U. S. "Promised Land" to This Young Actress

New York.—America has become the actual "land of promise come true" for a sixteen-year-old English actress, Gemma Fagan.

"Father has made repeated promises to let me act in one of his plays at home," she says. "But only now that we are in New York will the promise be made good. Now I know why so many persons call the United States the 'promised land.'"

Gemma Fagan is the daughter of James F. Fagan, London manager, who is both author and producer of "And So to Bed," a comedy about Samuel Pepys, the diarist, and the court of King Charles II, which played for ten months at the Savoy theater in London. Her mother is Mary Grey, also a well-known actress. Her grandfather is Sir John Fagan, noted Irish surgeon.

When an American producer asked her father to bring his English actress to this country she joined them for the voice. Although she had not appeared on the stage before she surprised her father by learning the lines of one of the smaller parts with such skill that he cast her for the part.

New Capital Makes Wild Magpies Wild

Canberra, Australia.—Police of the recently established capital of Australia have been required to add hunting to their ordinary duties because of the invasion of the new city by wild magpies from the surrounding wilderness.

The savage birds, as if resenting the invasion of their domain, have attacked the children of government officials and in one instance set upon a man, biting him severely on the head.

Patrolmen with rifles have been sent out to rid the city of the invaders.

English Judge Grants 110 Divorces in Sixty Seconds

London.—English Justice has the reputation of moving fast, but Judge Mackinnon in divorce court stepped on the accelerator so hard that the bandage over the eyes of the Goddess of Justice almost blew off.

In just 60 seconds he granted 110 absolute divorces. He still had a few seconds left to take out one case at the request of a man who had come all the way from South Africa and asked a retrial.

Home of President Monroe Sold for Debt

New York.—A tumbledown old-fashioned house on Crosby street where President James Monroe once lived was sold recently for $10,000 to Mrs. Teresa Browning, who held a mortgage of $15,770 against the property. The house has stood still while the city of which it once was a social center moved past it and left behind a neighborhood of tawdry tenements.

A generation too busy to cherish antiquity forgot that here once lived the man who formulated America's most famous foreign policy, the Monroe doctrine.

Denotes End of March

Air Mail Plane Cargo Salvaged

Los Angeles, Nov. 5 (AP).—After a ten-day search, an air mail plane cargo including securities valued at $150,000, has been salvaged in the mountains north of here where the ship crashed, postal inspectors revealed today.

The plane because lost in the fog between here and San Francisco and Charles H. Borzuan, the pilot, was forced to use his parachute at 5,600 feet. He landed safely but was unable to locate his plane.

Louis Klein, construction engineer, locally located the wreckage and although the mail bags were buried in sand with the engine, they were intact. Klein will receive $500 reward posted by the Pacific Air Transport Company.

Albert B. Fall Is Seriously Ill

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP).—Broken in health by complications from a long standing throat ailment, former Secretary Albert B. Fall is seriously ill in the hotel apartment where he has lived since he came to Washington for trial with Harry F. Sinclair in the oil conspiracy case.

After a turn for the worse yesterday he spent a restless night, and today was very weak, although his physicians predicted that the crisis would not come for another twenty-four hours. They thought him in no immediate danger.

Local Death Record

A memorial Mass for the repose of the souls of deceased members of St. Mary's Rosary Society will be held in the church Sunday at 8 a. m. The Rosary Society will attend the Mass in a body and receive Holy Communion. It is requested that every member attend the Mass.

W. Harvey Ostrander, son of the late Joseph and Margaret Ostrander, and brother of Edmund P. Ostrander of this city, died in Brooklyn, Friday, November 4, after a protracted illness. Mr. Ostrander left Kingston about forty years ago. Interment will be in Wiltwyck cemetery, this city, Monday afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Johnston was held from 174 Broadway at 8:45 Friday morning and at St. Mary's Church where a requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Francis X. FitzPatrick, at 9 o'clock. The bearers were Hugh F. Connelly, Philip Reilly, Edward Gilen, William Donovan, John Reilly and John Murphy. Interment in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Martin was held from her late residence on Hoyt street, Port Ewen, Friday morning at 9 o'clock and at the Church of the Presentation at 9:30 where a requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Martin J. Leddy, C. S. R. The bearers were John Shay, William Matthews, Joseph Burns, and Patrick Connelly. The interment was in the family plot, St. Mary's cemetery, this city, where the Rev. Father Leddy pronounced the final absolution.

Mrs. Alice Mallia, widow of Charles Mallia, died today at her home in Rosendale. She is survived by a son, Hugh, of New Brunswick, N. J., and four daughters, Mrs. Jacob Steely of Rosendale, Mrs. Margaret Anker of Albany, Mrs. John Fessel and Miss Grace Mallia of Rosendale. Funeral from the late residence on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock and at 10 o'clock from St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, with a Mass of requiem for the repose of her soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery, Rosendale.

The funeral of Patrick H. Mooney, son of the late Dennis and Mary Joyce Mooney, was held Friday morning from his late residence, 213 East Chester street, and thence from St. Mary's Church where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Very Rev. Joseph B. Scully. The St. Mary's church choir sang the responses to the Mass. There was a profusion of floral offerings and spiritual bouquets and the funeral cortege was large. The bearers were six nephews of Mr. Mooney. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, the Rev. William H. Kennedy pronouncing the final absolution at the grave.

The funeral of Mrs. Anne Howard was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Brooks, 22 South Clinton avenue, Thursday at 9 a. m. and at St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 where a high requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Father Burke. A large funeral cortege and profusion of flowers attested to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The bearers were Frederick Goldpaugh, John Carroll, John Brooks, Michael Malone, Peter Mahar and James Malone. Interment was in the family plot in St. Ann's cemetery, Sawkill, where the Rev. Father Burke pronounced the final absolution.

"Underworld" at Reade's

"Underworld," the story of modern crime in a great American city, will be screened at Reade's Kingston Theatre for three days next week commencing Monday. It is said to be one of the present leading melodramatic stories on the screen. In conjunction with the cinema four Keith-Albee vaudeville acts will be staged.

YOUNG LAW CLERK NAMED U. S. COMMISSIONER

Lockport, N. Y., Nov. 5.—(AP) J. Leslie Delaney, a law clerk of the office of George F. Thompson, former state senator, and J. F. Smith of this city, today became one of the youngest United States commissioners in the country with his appointment by Federal Judges John R. Hazel of Buffalo and Simon L. Adler of Rochester for the western district of New York. He succeeds former Commissioner William A. Goin, who resigned September 24, to become a candidate for county judge. Delaney is 30 years old. His appointment expires in 1931. Office of the new commissioner will be in the Federal Building here. Commissioner Delaney is a Republican. World War veteran, and former member of the Niagara county board of supervisors. He will take his bar examinations next year.

Workers' Short Lives

The queen bees live from four to five years; the workers, about six weeks.

Destruction and Death Continue

houses and barns, or what remained of them, clinging about in swift flowing waters, broad lowlands changed into lakes, barned dams frantically by the tops of abandoned automobiles, railroad embankments buried to the steel and often times dropping entirely beneath the flood, whole towns in which streets had become canals and pedestrians metamorphosed into buoys.

Disasters which crowded the early reports of the flood particularly in western Massachusetts and central Vermont gave place to sadder and more vivid details today but the mystery of Montpelier and the enigma that shrouded the fate of Barre continued to hold first interest.

Damage in New York.
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP).—The backwash of flood waters that gripped western New England lapped about property and continued to eat away at bridges and dams along New York's eastern boundary today. Damage was not confined to the flooding of homes, but included loss in material and equipment of manufacturing plants and power and water stations. Railroads were attempting to fight off the paralysis that floods had imposed upon them.

Whitehall, at the head of Lake Champlain, was believed to have incurred the greatest monetary loss when water pushed into a silk mill, destroying equipment and thousands of dollars' worth of manufactured silk. A number of employees were removed from the building with rowlocks. A rainfall of four and one-half inches in thirty-six hours was recorded. More than half a hundred homes were partly flooded and business houses, including a newspaper plant, were under water.

Railroads Rush Repairs.
The Boston and Maine and Boston and Albany Railroads, entering this state from New England, were rushing repairs to road beds and broken bridges in an endeavor to restore service with eastern points. They had been blocked for more than a day. Rutland Railroad officials reported that breaks in their system rendered trunk line operation from New York state points impossible. The Delaware and Hudson Railroad, after having its northern division closed for twenty-four hours, succeeded in re-establishing service.

In rural districts farmers felt some loss through drowning of live stock and were hampered by the washing away of small bridges and the bursting of creek dams.

The Mohawk and Hudson rivers, major streams of eastern New York, rose enough to flood piers and cellars but failed to cause serious damage. Navigation in the eastern division of the Barge Canal was closed.

The flood waters were receding in the Hudson valley today. The government weather bureau reported that the Hudson river, at Albany, had lowered a foot over night.

Orders Planes to Area

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP).—President Coolidge has ordered several army planes to fly from Boston over the New England flood area in the hope of obtaining information as to the extent of the disaster.

Three army airplanes were ordered today to fly to the Boston airport, where they are to take off for a reconnaissance of the stricken flood areas in New England.

Boston, Nov. 5 (AP).—Plans to send army airplanes from Boston to inspect the New England flood area under orders from President Coolidge were delayed at army headquarters here today owing to the lack of amphibian machines which the army fliers believed would be necessary in case of a forced descent. An amphibian plane at Mitchell Field, L. I., was expected to fly here later in the day.

Radio Fan Waiting For Reports

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP).—Arthur L. Kent, a local amateur radio enthusiast, is standing by at his home, in hopes of catching a radio message from L. Kelly, Associated Press correspondent at Montpelier, Vt.

Kent was in communication with Mr. Kelly last night and was receiving a thrilling story through the air when suddenly the message ceased.

"It was shortly after 9 p. m. last night, that the message stopped," Kent said, "and although I have been standing by ever since with a representative of the Associated Press present for an immediate relaying of the message, nothing has come."

"I fear that the power plant of the city supplying current for the radio has failed, because of the rising flood, that the wires are down and communication by radio cannot be had."

Elect Officers For Mercantile

Friday evening representatives of the City Mercantile Bowling League met at the Y. M. C. A. and started the season with the election of officers.

W. Neale was elected president. Mr. Neale won the coveted honor of "high man" in the league last season. He has the interests of the league much at heart and promises to do all in his power to keep interest at "white heat" during the season.

Other officers elected were Clarence Duman, vice president, and Ernest LeFevre, secretary-treasurer. "Pop" Hines has seen to it that the alleys are now in tip-top shape in every respect.

Some of the organizations that will be represented this year are: Central Hudson Gas and Electric, with two teams; Apollo Magneto, Canfield Supply, High School Faculty, etc.

Another meeting is called for Monday evening at 7:30 at the Y. M. C. A., for the purpose of arrangement of details of schedule and other important matters. It is hoped that all organizations which plan to have teams in the league this season will have at least one representative at this meeting.

Society Notes

Parker-Sutton

George C. Parker of No. 158 Ten Broeck avenue and Miss Ellen J. Sutton of No. 200 Down street were married in Syracuse on September 10 by the Rev. Arthur Moudry.

Barton-McNamara

Charles Barton of Port Ewen and Mary McNamara of Kingston were united in marriage Thursday afternoon, November 3, by the Rev. Martin T. Leddy at the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Michael McNamara. After a short honeymoon the newly wedded couple will take up their residence on Salem street, Port Ewen.

Booiukos-Cortisone

Adelpha Cortisone of Newburgh was married to Nicholas Booiukos of the Liberty Candy Shop, 565 Broadway, this city, on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony, which was held in Turner Hall at Newburgh, a Greek priest of Poughkeepsie officiating, was largely attended. The attendants were Andrew Booiukos of Hudson, formerly of Kingston, and John Stamalakos of this city.

THE JOINERS.

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

The Master Mason degree will be conferred in Ulster Lodge, No. 193, F. & A. M., of Saugerties on Wednesday evening, November 23, by the degree team of Roundout Lodge, No. 343, Right Worshipful Charles H. Gregory of Roundout Lodge, district deputy for the Greene-Ulster Masonic District, will officially visit the lodge the same evening and a chowder supper will follow the meeting.

After the business session of Vanderlyn Council, No. 141, D. of A., Tuesday evening a reception was given Sister Ella M. Snow, the newly elected state warden. Guests were present from Imperial Council, No. 16, of Saugerties, and from Ida McKinley Council, No. 65, of Highland, and among them were Past State Councilor Phoebe A. Cobb, National Representative Suzanne E. Decker, and Deputy State Councilor Sister Mabel E. Smith. A pleasing musical program was rendered by local talent and a buffet lunch was served by a very efficient committee. The guests departed wishing Sister Snow all success in her new office.

Creation of Dickens

Real to the Author

Many of Charles Dickens' creations were more than caricatures, as all strong characters in fiction must necessarily be. They were characters. They were with him in his long mechanical walks, governed by mile stones and timed by a stop-watch. He was glad of a congenial companion to exercise these spirits. They came back to him in the evening and in the dead of night they often moved him to rise and walk that long tramp of 27 miles from Tavistock square to Finsbury through the mists of early morning.

In writing his strongest characters, Dickens always acted them. He could hardly do otherwise with his dramatic temperament and the dramatic nature of his works. Why more dramas have never been manufactured out of these works is found in the fact that they contained too much dramatic and "objective" material than too little.

From this creation of dramatic fiction the step to dramatic recitation was easy and simple. It was always a mistake to call these efforts "readings." They were the most dramatic of recitations. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Georgia "Crackers"

Authorities differ as to the origin of the term "Crackers," as applied to natives of Georgia. According to Olmstead, the nickname was applied to these people on account of their peculiar dialect, almost incomprehensible and difficult to report or describe. Another theory is that the name was given because cracked corn formed their chief article of diet. In a publication dated 1835, it is stated that the "Crackers" received their name because they were accustomed to using a particular form of whip, which had a piece of buckskin at the end known as a "cracker."

Party Lines Shattered as Kentucky Is Torn Over Race Gambling Issue

J. C. W. Beckham (left), Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentucky, who has split party lines by declaring war against race track gambling. His opponent is Judge Flem D. Sampson, Republican (right).

Kentucky may go Republican for the first time in years.

J. C. W. Beckham, Democratic candidate for Governor, came out flat-footed against the pari-mutuel system of betting. As a result of his vigorous campaign everybody connected with the "game" has lined up against him—and as the Bluegrass State is very horsey indeed, it may be seen that the opposition is formidable.

Beckham's drive on the mutuel would naturally mean the abolition of horse racing. He went through the primaries without mentioning his stand on the matter, but once nominated, the fur began to fly.

He has made an appeal to the so-called moral element of the State. He has split the Democratic party in two and has somewhat split up the Republican party as well.

The situation is almost identical with that which existed in New York State when Charles Evans Hughes waged his almost epochal fight against legalized betting.

Beckham's opponent is Judge Flem D. Sampson, whose lieutenants are already boasting that they will sweep the State by a handsome majority.

As the race goes down "the stretch," however, Beckham is making a strong fight, and is supported ardently by the combined church and women's
